

Ready for War

The Karma Factory Music & Lyrics © 2020, Scott Lippincott, Nursery Rhymes Music (BMI)

You are so angry tonight
Lines ain't right
And I don't know where you are

I like to think we're okay
Just a rough pay they say
But here we are again

And how can I show you
And now that I know you
I'm ready for war, whatever the cost
And everything we had feels so lost
And we hide in our hands again and again
The one thing we didn't do is say when
Didn't say when

It's already morning light of day
And I have to work anyway
I just wish you'd look my way
You don't have to leave me alone
Lie about service on the phone
No need to swallow anymore pride

And how can I show you
And now that I know you
I'm ready for war, whatever the cost
And everything we had feels so lost
And we hide in our hands again and again
The one thing we didn't do is say when

Songwriters: Scott Lippincott