Dear Valentine

There's a million cards that say the words
But none of them sound very much like me

Dear Valentine

I thought I'd take a moment to find the words
And see if you agree

What I'm really trying to say
Is that I hope that every day
You'll remember I am yours
And you are mine

And even if I'm far away
And I know it sounds cliché
You will always be, You will always be
You will always be my, Dear Valentine

Dear Valentine

Did you ever think that we'd be here
Counting anniversaries in our head

Dear Valentine

The flowers will be dying soon
And I'd rather give you piece of mind instead

What I'm really trying to say
Is that I hope that every day
You'll remember I am yours
And you are mine

And even if I'm far away
And I know it sounds cliché
You will always be, You will always be
You will always be my, Dear Valentine

And even if I'm far away
And I know it sounds cliché
You will always be, You will always be
You will always be my, Dear Valentine
