

Song for Summer

The Karma Factory Music & Lyrics © 2020, Scott Lippincott, Nursery Rhymes Music (BMI)

The August winds have settled down
And shadows start to come around again
September skies and shorter days
And everything becomes a shade of grey

Hey hey darlin' don't you cry
You know that I'll be back around some day
You know it's just a matter of time
That I'll be yours and you'll be mine again
Before we fade away

November days are growing cold
Reminding me I'm growing old again
December frost upon the ground
Seem so bare without you around again

Hey hey darlin' don't you cry
You know that I'll be back around some day
You know it's just a matter of time
That I'll be yours and you'll be mine again
Before we fade away

A New Year starts with Aulde Lang Syne
Another night with you and I apart
I know it seems so far away
But I count the days so you and I can start

Hey hey darlin' don't you cry
You know that you'll be back around some day
You know it's just a matter of time
That I'll be yours and you'll be mine again
Before we fade away
